Library License

Our unlimited accounts are the most common way that libraries license Vidcode. This opens up access to our coding courses for your library for up to 299,000 estimated service population.

Free Pilots

Libraries can pilot Vidcode's coding courses before they commit to a license to our full course catalog. With our free accounts you can add unlimited patrons via a unique URL in your educator dashboard (see video explainer here). You can share that unique URL on your library resources page. Click here for marketing language.

Regional Licenses   Request a Quote

Our regional accounts are great for service populations over 300,000 and covers every library branch in your area. We'll customize a quote with a group discount based on the size of your region, town, city or state.
